

Mrs. Eisenhower Receives Honorary Degree Saturday At Saint Joseph College; President Speaks Briefly

Mrs. Mamie Doud Eisenhower received an honorary Doctor of Laws degree from St. Joseph College, Emmitsburg, at an honors convocation Saturday afternoon commemorating the 150th anniversary of the founding of the school but her husband, President Dwight D. Eisenhower, delivered a surprise informal talk.

The President was not on the program as a scheduled speaker. It was not announced that he would accompany his wife to the college until the day before. However at the close of the program, just before the benediction, Sister Hilda announced:

"For a perfect example of Christian charity the President of the United States has consented to say a few words."

There was a loud round of applause when Mr. Eisenhower stepped to the podium. He said, in part:

"Lone Member"

"For a long time I've been a lone member of a pressure group, a group striving to persuade my charming wife to speak. I have always been hopeful that she would step before a microphone and say a few words. But in vain. However, I thought that today, because of its special significance for the Eisenhower family, she might step up here and be on speaking terms with this instrument (microphone). I know how deep have been her emotions because of the high honor paid her here today, and I realize that she just could not make up her mind. "You'll recall that in her citation it was stated that in the background of every successful man, stands a woman. Today, I'm part of her background.

"I would like to tell you in her behalf that today is one of the most memorable events in our lives. We have known this college, from the front at least, for 40 years, because during the first world war when I was in command of a camp at Gettysburg we drove back and forth to Washington and always admired this Mother Seton campus.

Memorable Salute

"And, too, there is one outstanding occasion which we shall never forget. When I was returning to our farm at Gettysburg to recuperate from a heart seizure at Denver, Mrs. Eisenhower and my doctor were with me and as we drove past this campus all the nuns and the girl students, in mortar boards and gowns stood at the hedge and waived a welcome salute to us. That expression will always be most memorable to us, as will this day."

The overflow audience responded with long applause.

The academic procession started promptly at 2 o'clock. The students and guests were seated on the main floor of DePaul auditorium. The balcony was

TWO BALTIMORE MEN FATALLY HURT IN CRASH

Two Baltimore men were fatally injured late Saturday morning when their car and an oil delivery truck collided headon, three miles east of Taneytown on Maryland Route 97, between Taneytown and Westminster.

Carroll County Medical Examiner Dr. James T. Marsh, Westminster, said the men, Earl Edgar Ausherman, 39, and John Russell Brenan, 42, both of Baltimore, were instantly killed by crushed chests suffered in the crash.

The driver of the truck, Donald Diller, 53, Taneytown, was removed to the Warner Hospital where he was treated for lacerations of the leg and brush burns. He was reported in a satisfactory condition following the crash.

Truck Upset

Maryland State Policeman Lawrence L. Dunn, of the Randallstown Barracks, stationed in Taneytown, said Diller was driving an empty fuel oil tank truck owned by S. L. Warner, Frizelburg, when the car, driven and owned by Ausherman, swerved across the center of the highway and smashed headon into the tractor-trailer.

The wheels of the tank truck passed over the left front of the car, hurling the oil truck over on its side.

Trooper Dunn estimated damage to the truck at $1,000 and said the car, which had to be pulled apart to permit removal of the bodies of the two occupants, was demolished.

Diller was moved to the Warner Hospital in the Taneytown ambulance.

CREDIT BUCKET BRIGADE WITH SAVING HOME

Residents of Hunterstown formed a bucket brigade Sunday morning to check a fire in the home of Oral Andrews, Hunterstown, until the Gettysburg firemen could arrive.

Fire Chief Donald Staub said the volunteers "did a good job of holding down the fire" by setting up a long line of residents from a well on the property, through the door, along a hallway and up the stairs to the second floor where the fire had started in a closet under the attic steps.

Because the fire had broken through the attic steps and into the attic, where the neighborhood bucket brigade could not reach it, the services of the Gettysburg firemen were needed.

Spread Rapidly

Once the fire "mushroomed" into the attic it spread quickly to clothing and other articles stored there, burned joists under the roof and started to burn the wooden shingles which comprised the original roof of the structure which now has metal roofing over the shingles.

Chief Staub said Gettysburg firemen were called at 11:30, shortly after the fire was discovered by Mrs. Andrews, who had been on the first floor of the house, noticed the odor of smoke and on investigation found the fire in the second floor closet.

Damage was estimated at "possibly between $1,000 and $2,000," Chief Staub said. The loss is at least partially covered by insurance.

$50,000 FIRE ON SATURDAY IN NEW OXFORD

Fire, which broke out Saturday afternoon in the Livingston building, one of the largest structures in New Oxford, caused $50,000 damage and brought injury to four firemen.

County Fire Marshal John Murren made the $50,000 estimate of damage.

The blaze started about 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon in a store of the B and S Five and Ten Cent Store on the first floor of the brick structure on the east side of Center square, New Oxford, and burned through the partitions to the third floor of the building.

Blame Basement Wiring

Murren said the first is believed to have started from wiring in the ground floor storeroom and then "went up the corner of the building like a chimney."

Fire damage was confined to the northeast corner of the building, but smoke and water damage spread through the structure. Among the occupants of the building where damage occurred were the B and S Store, The Dress Shop, the New Oxford Item business office, the apartment of the Carroll Rider family, the New Oxford library, the Washington Camp POS of A and the Hebron lodge of the F and AM.

Mrs. Rider saw smoke coming through the apartment floor and called New Oxford firemen who in turn called in seven other companies to assist when the fire appeared to be in partitions and firemen had difficulty locating the seat of the blaze.

Chief's Rib Broken

Terry Rider, 23, a fireman and an occupant of the second floor apartment in the building, received a cut hand from a broken window. New Oxford Fire Chief Joseph Mahone suffered a broken rib and firemen Jacob Byers had a cracked shoulder blade. Less

IKE TO REPORT TO NATION ON BERLIN TONIGHT

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower reports to the nation tonight on the Berlin situation as he sees it.

His half-hour address from the White House will be carried by all the major radio and television networks, starting at 9:30 p.m. EST.

Advance indications were that Eisenhower would detail his charges that the Soviets, in seeking to force Allied military forces out of the onetime German capital, are trying to break solemn agreements entered into during and after World War II concerning the four-power status of the city.

To Repeat Berlin Stand

He may emphasize this by showing his television audience some of the documents setting forth the occupation agreements.

He also was expected to reiterate this nation's intention to stand firm in Berlin, and to emphasize the senselessness of atomic war.

Informed sources described the speech as a restatement of the American position and an effort to put into perspective the cold war battle over Berlin that has been raging since last November. They said the speech would contain no surprises and set forth no new policies.

Macmillan On Thursday

Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont), a member of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, suggested today that Eisenhower lay down the general terms the West will be prepared to consider in any Berlin negotiations with the Soviet Union.

"In this way his words would not only reach the people in the Democratic and uncommitted countries but would be carried into the Soviet Union and the satellite countries by the Voice of America," Mansfield said. "In view of the extreme gravity of the situation, they might even be carried in part on stations in the U.S.S.R."

Eisenhower will begin talks Thursday with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan in a further effort to agree on a common stand among the Allies.

NEGRO HELD ON NINE CHARGES

At a hearing earlier this week, Brown pleaded guilty to a charge of larceny of a dress and was jailed in default of bail or the next term of sentence court.

Homes of Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey Shultz, 360 E. Lincoln Ave.; Mr. and Mrs. Mares Sherman, 123 E. Broadway, and the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Steinberger, in the William Apts., Carlisle St., were broken into and burglarized of $447.75 worth of articles.

Shultz, Mrs. Steinberger, and Miss JoAnn Sherman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mares Sherman, now vacationing in Florida; borough police, Chief Jack Bartlett and Patrolman Charles Culp Jr., testified Saturday. Brown was given an opportunity to question each person but declined.

12-FOOT DRIFTS STALL TRAINS IN WISCONSIN

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A savage winter curtain call of fierce wind, snow and rain storms howled across the Midwest during the weekend and swept eastward with undiminished fury.

At least eight deaths were blamed on the whiplash storms.

The late winter storms left thousands of persons stranded for hours. Included were nearly 350 passengers on four Chicago and North Western Railroad trains which got stuck in 12-foot snow drifts in Wisconsin. All of the trains had sufficient fuel to heat the cars and all passengers had food during their enforced layovers, ranging up to 12 hours.

The last of the stalled trains, with 150 passengers aboard, was pulled free late Sunday night, eight hours after it was halted by huge drifts about 12 miles north of Green Bay.

Tornadoes Kill Three
Striking as spring storm waiting in the wings for its seasonal debut on Saturday, the storms brewed tornadoes which killed three persons in Arkansas.

Elsewhere, the rigors of snow shoveling claimed two lives in Iowa. One person was killed on a highway Sunday in Michigan when a heavy snowfall reduced visibility. A pulp cutter died of exposure in his cabin in northwest Michigan.

In Cleveland Heights, Ohio, a man was killed when blown off a second-story porch Sunday during a windstorm which carried gusts up to 82 m.p.h.

$50,000 FIRE

Serious injuries were suffered by New Oxford fireman Curvin Miller.

Firemen had to use masks to make their way through smoke-filled rooms to locate the source of the blaze.

Assisting New Oxford in fighting the fire were the Abbotstown, Fentennial, McSherrystown, Irishtown, Hampton, East Berlin and Hanover Eagle fire companies. Ambulances from New Oxford, East Berlin and Carlisle companies stood by.

Breaks Out Again

Firemen had the blaze under control in 45 minutes, but remained on the scene throughout the night. About 3 o'clock Saturday morning fire in a partition again broke through, but was quickly extinguished.

The building was roped off and guarded by fire policemen, who, during the time of the fire, directed traffic off Route 30 over side streets.

The ladder truck of the Hanover Eagle Company was called to provide easy access to the roof of the building from which water could be placed in the blazing partitions.

Built In 1895

Now owned by Richard Livingston, the building was constructed about 1895 for the grocery business of Mr. Livingston's father, E. C. Livingston.

Saturday's fire was the third in the building's history. In 1911 when the New Oxford Item was located there, a fire in the print shop spread to the building. In 1923 fire from a blazing garage next door spread into the Livingston structure.

MORE THAN 30 DIE IN BLAZES

At Cross Hill, S.C., a house fire claimed the lives of a sharecropper, eight of his children, and two children who were visiting.

In North Philadelphia, fire swept through a three-story house, killing eight children in one family. The parents and two other children escaped.

In West New York, N.J., three persons died of smoke poisoning in an apartment fire.

At Halfway, Ore., three small children of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Yardley died when trapped in a closet after fire erupted in their home. The parents were not at home. Yardley's 16-year-old brother was baby sitting but had gone outside to paint a bicycle when the fire broke out.

COMPTON, Calif. (AP)—"Turn your back and walk to the rear of the store," the young gunman told market owner Mrs. Jane Ledet.

"I will not," snapped Mrs. Ledet.

"Where's your money?" demanded the gunman.

"I don't have much and you're not going to get it—I work 13 hours a day."

"Go ahead and shoot."

The gunman blinked at Mrs. Ledet and ran out of the store.

She told police: "I was scared to death, really."

filled with nuns.

When President and Mrs. Eisenhower, also in cap and gown, entered the auditorium they were given a rousing ovation. The First Lady wore a dark pink silk dress underneath her gown with a strand of pearls around her neck. A three-piece ensemble, piano, violin and cello, played prior to the ceremony and the processional, "March Pontificale." Following the national anthem the Most Rev. John M. McNamara, D.D., auxiliary bishop of Washington, gave the invocation.

Sister Hilda gave the address of welcome and the St. Joseph glee club sang "Veni Sancte Spiritus."

Then Sister Rosemary, dean of studies, read the citation for Mrs. Eisenhower. At its conclusion Sister Hilda draped the hood over Mrs. Eisenhower's shoulders. Sister Hilda and the archbishop shook Mamie's hands. Then the President stood, tapped his wife on the shoulder and when she turned around he grabbed her hand in both of his hands and shook it lustily, while beaming and congratulating her. Mamie appeared taken by surprise.

The glee club sang "Tales from the Vienna Woods" after which Miss Alice R. May, assistant director of Catholic charities for the archdiocese of Baltimore, was presented the St. Louise de Marillac medal.

After the address by the Very Rev. Sylvester A. Taggart, of St. Vincent Seminary, Germantown, the glee club sang "Thanks Be to God."

The president then spoke, benediction was pronounced by the archbishop and the ensemble played "Coronation March" for the recessional.

In the corridor outside the auditorium President and Mrs. Eisenhower were asked to pause while a dozen photographers took pictures. The President brought Sister Hilda and Miss May into the group to be photographed with them.

Living Costs At All-Time High

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Labor and Industry Department reports that living costs reached a new all-time high in Pennsylvania as of Jan. 15, 1959.

The department report Sunday said that, contrary to what might be expected in a period of recession, the Pennsylvania index rose 2 per cent above the level of Jan. 15, 1958 compared with a 1.2 per cent increase in the consumer price index for the nation as a whole.

The Commonwealth's cost-of-living index stood at a record 123.8 per cent of the 1947-49 base period. The index rose .9 per cent, the department said, between October 1958 and January 1959. During the quarter, the department report said, lower prices for food, apparel and house furnishings were offset by rice increases for all other major categories.

Sister Hilda, President Of Saint Joseph College, Lauds Two "First Ladies"

Sister Hilda, president of Saint Joseph College, Emmitsburg, delivered the following address of welcome at the convocation Saturday afternoon when Mrs. Mamie Doud Eisenhower received an honorary Doctor of Laws degree:

"Family Of Nazareth"

Milestones are always vantage points. From them one can look back through sunlight and shadow to the place of beginning, and gain perspective for the untrod path ahead. This year Saint Joseph College pauses to note a century-and-a-half of existence as an institution for the higher education of women in these United States, and it seems to me that the whole success of its future may well be in giving renewed impetus to the values which gave it birth.

Our republic had just emerged from the thralldom of oppression when a rickety covered wagon brought Mother Seton and the first faculty to this valley. James Madison, father of the Constitution, was entering upon his office as 4th President of the United States; a profound scholar noted for religious tolerance, he clearly recognized education as the only true foundation of civil liberty and the one guarantee of its welfare and stability.

At an epoch when formal schooling for women was a moot question, he pointed out:

"The capacity of the female mind for the highest education cannot be doubted having been sufficiently illustrated by works of genius, of erudition and of science; that capacity carries with it the right . . . to such an education."

Had not the qualities of mind and heart of his charming consort, Dolley Payne Madison, impressed upon him this conviction?

It can hardly be thought that Mother Seton, whose method of instruction drew largely on contemporary examples of those distinguished for virtue, failed to offer to the young girls under her charge the womanly ideal then extant in the First Lady of the Land. This devoted wife and mother gave to the people of her time the warm memory, still recalled, of cheerful deference, staunch loyalty, unflinching devotion. The domestic life of the President and his Lady pictured the harmony and happiness to be expected when morally stable, mature persons mutually esteem and respect each other. From that home, as from a center, radiated good-will and gracious hospitality.

"Family Of Nazareth" also a wife and mother, could appreciate and point out to her students how such a family mirrors the divine characteristics of that long-ago family of Nazareth and must, of necessity, leave its impress on the moral fiber of a nation. Here again she was seeing exemplified the same background of values which had marked yet another wife and mother in early 17th-Century France, Saint Louise de Marillac, her prototype in the origin and development of the Daughters of Charity.

To Louise de Marillac as to Mother Seton, the nobility of womanhood was always measured by its likeness to Mary, the mother of God, who first showed forth to the world for all time the perfection of goodness and courage that remain the earmark of a gentlewoman in any generation, no matter what her role, no matter what her culture.

Lauds First Lady

Today, then, at this opening celebration of the sesquicentennial of Saint Joseph College, it is particularly gratifying to welcome to our campus one who has won the hearts of the country by gracing the position of First Lady of the Land with all those qualities we like best to associate with woman. Our board of trustees has indeed been far-sighted in singling out Mrs. Mamie Doud Eisenhower to receive the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws. Nor can we fail to welcome most heartily a dear friend in the person of Miss Alice May, whose total dedication to the welfare of the neighbor has long been an inspiration to our Sisters and their co-workers. It was with sincere, heartfelt pleasure that we received her nomination from the archbishop of Baltimore as the worthy recipient of the Saint Louise de Marillac Medal.

"Homage And Acclaim"

And, Your Excellency, Bishop McNamara, it is entirely fitting that you should preside in our midst today, you who lose no opportunity to pay public homage and acclaim to our beloved American foundress and who so thoroughly appreciate her ideals. It is my pleasure to extend to all who honor us with their presence today the cordial welcome of the board of trustees and the faculty of Saint Joseph College and to invite you to join us in thanking God for His blessings so bountiful through the years.

KENNEDY GETS ACID THREATS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Threats that acid will be thrown into the eyes of his six children have been received by Robert F. Kennedy, chief counsel of the Senate Labor-Management Committee.

It was understood the FBI has been informed. Kennedy declined any comment on the threats reportedly made by an anonymous telephone caller over a period of weeks—most of them last December.

Kennedy told the committee about the calls at a closed door meeting Tuesday, it was learned Sunday night. However, he reportedly did not ask the committee to take any specific steps to protect his family.

An acid throwing incident—the blinding of New York labor reporter Victor Riesel—set off the Labor-Management hearings early in 1957. Acid was hurled into Riesel's eyes minutes after a broadcast in which he denounced labor racketeering.

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

Gettysburg Female Academy:
I had the pleasure of attending the examination of this institution which took place on Friday, the 11th inst. This institution numbers at present about 20 or 25 young ladies and is in charge of two excellent instructors, Rev. D. Eyster and his estimable lady, Mrs. R. R. Eyster, under whose tuition it has considerably improved. It is in a flourishing condition and has maintained its reputation as being one of the best female seminaries in the southern part of the state. Rev. Dr. Schmucker is the President of the Board of Trustees.

At 9 o'clock a goodly number of parents and visitors had assembled in the schoolroom on High street. The exercises were opened by prayer by Prof. Jacobs. The classes in Arithmetic, Philosophy and English Grammar were then examined. The following compositions were then read: Original Verses by Miss Bertie Koser; The Bad Scholar by Miss Ellie King; Water by Miss Julia Jackson; Astronomy by Miss Kate Dicks; Variety by Miss Lizzie Howard.

The Moral science and Astronomy classes were next examined. The following compositions were then read: Tarsis and Ophir; by Miss Hattie Williams; The Fore-saken Hearth by Miss Mary Wely; Public Examination by Miss Jennie Schaffer; Pleasures of Traveling, by Miss Mary Kendlehart; The Earth, a Scene of Pleasure and Improvement by Miss Eliza Wely.

They were then dismissed to re-assemble at 1 o'clock.
At 1 o'clock the school room was crowded to utmost capacity. The exercises commenced by examining the classes in Watts on the Mind, Algebra, Rhetoric and evidences of Christianity.

Then came the reading of the following compositions:

Twilight Thoughts, by Miss Myra Freeman; A Sister's Influence by Miss Mattie Longwell; School Memories by Miss Jane McCreary; Home, by Miss Kate Matthews; an original Poem by Miss Kate McReary. The Geometry class was next examined. The following young ladies then read compositions: Music by Miss Evie Danner; The Night of a Thousand Years by Miss Allie Schmucker; Parting Words by Miss Sallie McLean.

The graduates are Misses Evie Danner, Allie Schmucker and Sallie McLean.

The next session will commence on the 11th of April next.

Today's Talk

HOME TIES

In the Chicago World's Fair of 1893 there was displayed in one of the art galleries a painting entitled "Breaking Home Ties." Great crowds stood before it and its emotional qualities influenced the thoughts of thousands.

How well I remember when I left the little Iowa home for the first time. My four sisters and my mother were away, so only my mother was left to tell me Goodbye and Goodspeed. Though this parting occurred half a century ago, I still see that beautiful and kindly mother's smile that remains to this day deep within my heart.

A love of home is one of the greatest assets a nation can have. Bring up a child to love his home, for all that it may be in future years, and he will thank God for such a home. The home I have been mine for thirty years. It is the only home I have ever had and owned, and I pray God its influence for good will never die. It's home, and that is what warms it to us.

Home ties should never willingly be broken, no matter how far away the ones born in it may roam. The thoughts of home linger. Especially if it has been a happy home, I never was so homesick as on the day I landed in the Kansas town where I hoped to be for four years in college. I spent the first night with a dear and noble character. His name was Ward, so we all called him "Daddy" Ward, for he proved to be the daddy of us all. In chapel the next morning, the college president said not to worry about being homesick, for it proved that we came from good homes.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Initiative".

Just Folks

THE SNOW STORM
The snow at twilight floated down
In gentle flakes of fleecy white
And streaked the roofs about the town
With gray, but ere the shades
Of night
Had fallen, bolder grew the storm
And whiter made all earthly things,
And wrapped in ermine then the form
Of nature, like a snow-bird's wings.

And when upon the morn we awoke
The storm had passed; but stretched before,
Unstained by city grime and smoke,
A diamond field there by our door—
A drift of dazzling brilliants that
Outsparkled richest gems of kings,
And once again we marveled at
The wonders that a snow storm brings.

IF YOU WANT LIFE'S ABUNDANCE
By Ernest Holmes
Founder of the Church of Religious Science

A working mother came into my office recently in a state bordering on despair. Regardless, she said, of how earnest were her prayers, how humanly good she attempted to be, how hard she worked (and she did work hard), she could not seem to realize in her life the bare necessities—let alone adequate supply or complete abundance.

She wanted my help, through prayer, and I was more than willing to give it, "but you will have to cooperate," I told her. "What more can I do?" she asked simply.

"Try an experiment which may, at first, seem rather pointless to you. Go down to the ocean," I suggested. "Sit on the beach and imagine how many grains of sand there are; then how many fish in the sea. Next go to a nearby park and estimate how many leaves and buds grow effortlessly on each tree. Tonight, look up at the uncounted number of stars that spangle the sky—try filling yourself with the thought of the lavishness, the extravagance of Nature."

Seemed Too Simple
After her years of perspiration and striving, this seemed almost too simple—to go out and "consider the lilies." Yet I was certain from past experience that she needed to open up her consciousness to a larger concept, to an Infinite Storehouse which can supply all things in abundance.

It has been my experience, for example, that when I pray for two people—one used to doing things in a big way, and the other used to performing in a rather small way—when both were open to receive, the one accustomed to big things received big things, and the one accustomed to little things received less.

Why was this so?
Because it is my conviction that there is a law of God, ready, willing and able to respond to us directly in proportion to how much faith we have.

Doesn't Withhold
God does not willfully withhold good from us any more than he withhold it from our children. But, since God can only give what we will take, and since taking is a mental act, we must train our minds to believe and to accept. That is why Jesus said, "...and as thou hast believed, so be it done unto thee."

The working mother before me had entered a downward spiral, asking for, and thereby receiving, less and less of the things she wanted from life. Yet, we can go to the Infinite Storehouse with a gallon bucket or a teaspoon, for the choice of dipper is ours. This mother had arrived at a point where she was dipping with a sieve—truly expecting nothing. And nothing was exactly what she got.

So we helped fix the idea in her mind that God provided an abundance of all good things in life for everybody—including her family.

Infinite Supply
"God's power and love are in infinite supply," I said to her. "There is no such thing as a shortage or an impossibility—nothing too large, nothing too small. Any limitation is imposed by man."

Once this mother changed her thought patterns, she raised her sights. A reassessment of her ability on the job prompted her to ask for, and receive, a position with more responsibility, which also brought her more income.

Soon this changed outlook on life began to influence her husband who, in turn, found a better job. It wasn't long before the situation of lack in this family was dramatically changed to one of plenty.

Wanted Little
A song writer, who lived through World War II ordeals in London, faced the same problem. In surviving the rigors of the German Blitz, he accustomed himself to frugal meals, discomfort, cold. But when war ended, he could not react to himself to peace and prosperity. His mind had accepted privation, and when back in America living amid plenty, he continued to demonstrate lack and limitation.

"I want so very little," he reiterated time and again. "Only enough to get by..." as if a loving Father would be pleased that he wanted only a dry crust. This song writer constantly affirmed that he wanted "barely enough," and little was exactly what he got, despite the repeated suggestions of friends that he change his whole approach to life. David Seabury, the great psychologist and a very remarkable man, told me that at one time he suffered from dyspepsia and could eat nothing in comfort. So he played a little game with himself.

He began to think of all the organisms and activities in his stomach as little people. In confident, coaxing tones, he took a little time each day to tell them specifically what to do and how to behave. In a few weeks Seabury's "little people" were behaving perfectly and he was well again.

Identify With The Good
First of all, then, we must identify ourselves with the good we desire for ourselves, then conceive of ourselves as a willing instrument for its accomplishment. Beethoven was listening for music; Shakespeare for characterization; Browning for poetry; each person listens for the thing that particularly interests him.

A man who likes people and expresses love in an outgoing manner will never be without friends. People who identify themselves with money make money, but too often the man who thinks of nothing but money has no capacity to enjoy it.

God is an abundant giver refusing us no good thing. First, we must believe this wholeheartedly, then go to the Infinite Storehouse with a gallon bucket—or a teaspoon. The choice of dipper is ours.

He had served as a member of summer school faculties at Pennsylvania State University, Bucknell University, Syracuse, the University of Pennsylvania and University of Chattanooga, Tenn.

Dr. Fortenbaugh always took a great interest in state and local history and was one of the organizers of the Gettysburg Civil War Roundtable. For many years he had been chairman of the Museum committee of the county historical society.

Dr. Fortenbaugh was born in Harrisburg July 17, 1892, a son of the late James Penrose and Mary Jeannette Zimmerman Fortenbaugh. He received his early schooling in Harrisburg and was graduated from Gettysburg College in 1913. Three years later he was graduated from the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary.

In 1916 he became pastor of the Lutheran Church of the Atonement in Syracuse, N. Y., and served that church for seven years. He had an important role in the celebration of the college's centennial in 1932 and when the college was without a president after the resignation of Dr. Walter Langsam, he was one of an executive board that administered college affairs until General Willard S. Paul took over the presidency.

In the fall of 1957 he had the principal responsibility in arranging for the Civil War Conference in November which climaxed observance of the institution's 125th anniversary.

Eight Members Of Family Perish In Blaze Sunday

SEEK TO AVERT TEXAS SUITS

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People will seek to avoid lawsuits by urging local voluntary integration of schools in east Texas, an official of the group says.

Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins, New York, told delegates to the NAACP Texas State Conference Sunday the organization will wage a stepped-up campaign with that aim this year.

Plans also call for membership, poll tax payment and voting drives in observance of the 50th anniversary of the NAACP, Wilkins said.

Wilkins told newsmen integration must get under way in east Texas and that the collapse of Virginia's "massive resistance" against desegregation proves state law cannot avoid it.

Informed that the Houston School Board is drawing up plans for desegregation, Wilkins said his group favors such planning in its quest to "avoid lawsuits and arousing of feelings."

Pirates Can Beat Only The Champs

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP)—If the Pittsburgh Pirates are to fulfill their National League pennant aspirations they are going to have to beat other teams beside the champion Milwaukee Braves.

In Grapefruit League games to date the only consistent success they've had is against the Braves, winning all three encounters.

Against six other opponents the Pirates were successful only once, giving them a 4-5 overall record.

Today the Pirates face Cincinnati at Fort Myers. Cincinnati won their last meeting.

Start Play In AAU Tournament
DENVER (AP) — Unranked teams start the 24-game grid today that will end with crowning of a champion Saturday night in the 52nd National AAU Basketball Tournament.

With eight seeded entries on the sidelines until Wednesday, the lesser outfits tangle in an eight-game first round spread over today and Tuesday. Three games tonight and five Tuesday will complete the opening round.

Back to defend their title and seeded No. 1 are Peoria's Cats, who went into four overtimes last year to defeat Denver.

The home team got new scoring punch and the rookie of the year in George Bon Salle of Illinois this past season, when it won the National Industrial Basketball League championship. Peoria finished fifth.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Billy Loes, who repeatedly has expressed a desire to pitch for a team other than Baltimore, didn't do much pitching for the Orioles in his first spring appearance.

The 29-year-old righthander was knocked from the box with no outs in the third inning Sunday after giving up five runs on three hits to the Kansas City Athletics. Among the hits were homers by Bob Cerv and Harry Simpson.

4 Pitt Gridders Have Left School
PITTSBURGH (AP)—Four Pitt varsity football players have left school, two involuntarily, for undisclosed reasons.

Dr. John Geise, assistant chancellor, said Saturday fullback Marty Baracca of Blairsville and center Mike Lucci of Ambridge were dismissed. Quarterback Ed Shrockman of St. Clair and fullback Pat Marsilio of Ambridge withdrew voluntarily, Geise said.

All were sophomores, Shrockman, the No. 3 quarterback, was the only one of the four to win a letter last season.

Geise refused to discuss reasons for the action. The four players were reported to have left by auto for Florida.

DAVEY MOORE TO FIGHT FOR RING CROWN

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer
Davey Moore attempts Wednesday night to become the second member of the great American Olympic boxing team of 1952 to win a world professional championship.

The fast, hard-hitting Olympian from Springfield, Ohio, takes on World Featherweight Champion Hogan (Kid) Bassey of Nigeria in a 15-round title scrap at the Los Angeles Olympic Auditorium. The bout, starting at 10 p.m. EST, will be telecast coast to coast (ABC).

Floyd Patterson won the Olympic 165-pound crown in Finland in 1952 and went on to capture the pro heavyweight title.

Favor Bassey

Bassey, winner of his last 11 fights, is a 6-5 choice over the No. 1 contender, who has swept his last 13 scraps. The muscular little champion has a 54-10-1 record, including 20 knockouts. Moore's record is 35-5-1, including 15 kayos. Each stands 5-3 and, for little men, hit with authority.

Los Angeles and an area 250 miles around the city will be blacked out of the telecast. The promoters hope to draw a crowd of 10,000 and a $90,000 gate. Bassey, 26, has been guaranteed $45,000 against 40 per cent of the receipts. Moore will collect 20 per cent.

Light heavyweight contenders Tony Anthony of New York and Sonny Ray of Chicago are matched for the week's other television fight. They collide in a return 10-round bout at New York's Madison Square Garden Friday night (NBC 10 p.m. EST).

Anthony, 24, the No. 1 contender, outpointed ray, ranked fifth, in their first meeting at the Garden, last Nov. 15. Anthony's record is 37-6-1, including 28 knockouts.

Ray's record is 18-6-5, including seven kayos.

Expect Chester, Victors Over Carlisle, To Battle Farrell For Class A Title

By FRED WALTERS
The Associated Press

The guess here is that the line-up for the 1959 PIAA basketball championships will be Chester against Farrell in Class A; Kutztown against Gallitzin Class B, and West Reading versus Randolph in Class C.

There's still the matter of the regional finals, of course, but each of these six teams got safely by what figured to be their toughest regional tests last week.

West Reading, Dist. 3 champion from the Berks County League, trounced Jim Thorpe last Thursday, 88-63. The Cowboys' sensational 6-foot-7 sophomore, Ron Krick, scored 46 points in that effort. He's the boy Wilkes-Barre Township has to stop in tonight's Class C Eastern final.

Unbeaten In 27 Games

Township, Dist. 2 champion from the North League, has beaten Nesquehock and Moscow, in interdistrict competition so far.

Out West, Randolph, Dist. 10 and Crawford County champion, meets Lilly-Washington of Dist. 6 and the North Cambria League. Randolph squeezed by Sheffield, 46-37, last Monday.

Kutztown meets Westmoreland, the North League champion for the Eastern B title, Tuesday. Kutztown is unbeaten in 27 games, including victories over West Reading for the Berks County championship, Columbia for the Dist. 3 championship and Darby of Dist. 1, 72-54, last Friday.

Westmoreland has beaten Montrose and Montoursville in interdistrict competition.

Chester Wins

Gallitzin, Dist. 6 and North Cambria titlist, eliminated WPAL champ Avonworth last Friday, 55-51. It seems to be way above the class of West Middlesex, Dist. 10 and Mercer County champion.

Gallitzin, like Kutztown, is 27-0 on the season. Chester handed Carlisle its first defeat of the season—after 23 victories—in Saturday night's eastern semifinal at the Palestra in Philadelphia, site of this week's eastern and state finals.

The Dist. 1 champions rolled up 86 points, a new Class A tournament record, to 66 for the Dist. 3 champions. Chester's 88 points eclipsed by one the record set by Johnstown in 1953.

Meet Tamaqua

The Clippers meet Tamaqua of Dist. 11, upset winners over district champion Old Forge, 63-55, Saturday night, for the Eastern title. The Class A regional finals are Wednesday.

Out West, Farrell, champion of the WPAL, meets Dist. 9 champion DuBois.

The Steelers defeated Altoona Saturday night in a walkaway, 72-55. It was Altoona, Dist. 6 champion, that upset 1958 WPAL champion Charleroi in a western semifinal last year. It ended the WPAL's domination of the West going back to World War II. The Mountain Lions' All-State star, Jim Curry, however, was held to 10 points by the tough Farrell team this trip.

Upset By DuBois

DuBois, which has been vastly underrated here, scored its second successive interdistrict triumph by upsetting Erie Strong Vincent of Dist. 10, 50-48.

The Beavers have been red hot in the latter stages of the season. They specialize in winning the close ones. But it's hard to see here that their match with Farrell could be close.

Sites of the PIAA finals across the state this week:

CLASS A

March 18—Eastern final: Tamaqua vs Chester at the Palestra, Philadelphia. Western final: Farrell vs DuBois at the Pitt Field House, Pittsburgh.

CLASS C

March 16—Eastern final: West Reading vs Wilkes-Barre Township at St. Joseph's Gymnasium, Hazleton. Western final: Lilly vs Randolph at Kittanning High School.

March 20—State final. The site will depend on the outcome of the Eastern final. If West Reading wins, the state final will be at Albright College, Reading. If Wilkes-Barre Township wins, the game will be at Wilkes College, Wilkes-Barre.

CARLISLE HI ELIMINATED BY CHESTER

Carlisle, standard bearer of the South Penn League and District 3, was knocked out of the PIAA basketball plays Saturday night when powerful Chester, District 1 champions, took an 88-66 decision at the Palestra, Philadelphia.

Gene Evans' Thundering Herd gave Chester quite a battle in the first half but then started to fade. It was the first defeat for Carlisle after 23 victories.

After trailing 20-15 at the end of the first quarter, Carlisle spurred in the early minutes of the second period and led for the last time at 27-26. At half time Chester was on top 42-31.

Chester dominated play and pulled steadily away in the last half.

As the result of the victory Chester will tangle with Tamaqua, District 11 kingpins, Wednesday at the Palestra.

CANADA ICE TEAM CHAMPS BUT UNHAPPY

PRAGUE (AP)—The Belleville McFarlands of Canada today are probably the unhappiest world amateur hockey champions in the sport's history.

The Canadians won their second straight world title Sunday night although they suffered a 5-3 loss to Czechoslovakia.

"They desire full credit," Coach Ike Hildebrand of the Canadians said of Czechoslovakia's victory. But he seemed as stunned as his players.

The McFarlands went into the final game assured of the world title if they could hold Czechoslovakia to less than a seven-goal victory. No one expected them to lose, although they admittedly were tired after playing 28 games, including exhibitions, in the last six weeks.

The Canada team thus won from Russia on a goal basis. Each team was 4-1. Canada scored 21 goals while permitting seven, while Russia scored 20 and allowed 10.

Czechoslovakia and the U.S. shared third place with 3-2 marks in the final standings, followed by Sweden with 1-4 and Finland 0-5.

Valmy Thomas' three-run homer and Harry Anderson's four RBI's paced Philadelphia's 15-hit attack against Pittsburgh.

Jerry Walker, 20-year-old Oriole pitcher, limited Kansas City to three hits after taking over in the third while Gus Triandos supplied the winning runs with a three-run homer in the sixth.

Gus Zernial's ninth-inning home run with one aboard ended a two-game losing streak for the Tigers.

MONTREAL IS TOPS IN NHL

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
One week remains in the regular National Hockey League schedule and the only thing certain about the Stanley Cup Playoffs is that the Montreal Canadiens are the No. 1 team.

Four of the other five NHL teams are having a merry play-off scramble.

Each NHL team has three remaining games in a schedule that winds up next Sunday.

The Boston Bruins defeated the Canadiens Sunday night 5-3, and took over second place by two points from the Chicago Black Hawks. The Detroit Red Wings, in last place, beat the Hawks 4-1 to keep alive their slim playoff hopes.

Meanwhile, the Toronto Maple Leafs hung right in there, whipping the New York Rangers 6-5 for the second night in a row. On Saturday, the Leafs beat the Rangers 5-0. Montreal had beaten Chicago Saturday, 8-4, while Boston defeated Detroit, 4-2.

NEW YORK (AP)—A pair of unseeded local teams today have the ways around Madison Square Garden talking about the possibility of the first all-New York final in the history of the National Invitational Tournament.

St. John's and New York University suddenly have appeared as equalizers in the 22nd NIT and no one is taking them lightly.

NYU started the ball rolling with its 90-81 victory over Denver Saturday.

"They're the best team I've seen in this tournament," Coach Charley Osborn of top-seeded Bradley said. His team may have the Violets as a semifinal round opponent, after eliminating Butler 83-77.

To Play Oklahoma
NYU plays fourth-seeded Oklahoma City in one quarterfinal game Tuesday night while second-seeded St. Louis meets Providence in a spine-tingling 68-66 winner over Manhattan Saturday.

St. John's took care of third-seeded St. Bonaventure 82-74, with Soph Tony Jackson leading the Redmen with 27 points, 17 rebounds and numerous blocked shots.

The Redmen meet the St. Louis Providence winner in Thursday's other semifinal.

Seven Teams Top 3100 In ABC Event
ST. LOUIS (AP)—Scoring has picked up in the open team division at the American Bowling Congress Tournament during the last few days.

When the Milwaukee Bridge Co., team rolled a 3101 series Sunday night to take seventh place in the standings, it marked the fifth day in a row that a score of 3100 or better was recorded.

The Milwaukee club's outburst was the seventh time in this tournament that a score of 3100 or better had been rolled, an ABC record. Last year, six teams rolled 3100 or more.

Despite new scoring in the team division, most experts have conceded the 1959 title to the Detroit Peiffer, who rolled a record 3243 on Feb. 25. The 72-day tourney has 42 days to run.

TRACK COACH DIES
SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP)—A high school track coach hit in the head with a 12-pound shot died Sunday night.

Louis Finn, 40, father of four, had been in a coma since he was struck Friday at Pacific High School.

The iron ball was thrown in a warmup toss by an 18-year-old senior. The athlete yelled "Look out," but Finn, walking across the field, did not hear it in time.

"CAMPY" IS HAPPY TO BE AT VERO BEACH

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP)—"I didn't think I could ever feel this good again," said Roy Campanella. "Just being here has taken my mind off a lot of things. Next to being back there behind the plate, it's the best thing that could have happened to me."

Campanella, wearing a wide grin on his cherubic face, was bubbling with enthusiasm. If you weren't aware that he was virtually paralyzed from the chest down as a result of his tragic auto accident of 13 months ago, you would swear he was the same old Campy doing the thing that comes most naturally to him—talking up a storm about baseball.

"Gee, isn't this great," he beamed. "Just being here and being around with the fellows and watching games and trying to make myself useful by talking to the kids mean quite a bit to me. I'm so busy from morning to night, I don't have time to think about myself. Gee, I hope this never ends."

Helping Whole Team
Campy is not the only one benefiting from his stay in camp as a special coach. All the Los Angeles Dodgers, especially the pitchers and catchers, with particular emphasis on Johnny Roseboro, his pet project, have benefited.

"I think I've learned more about catching, and how to pitch to the National League hitters, in one week with Campy than I did all last year," said Roseboro, who succeeded Roy as the Dodgers' No. 1 catcher in 1958.

"I'm A Lucky Guy"
Campy plans to return to New York at the end of March. He will attend an April 13 dinner in Los Angeles in honor of himself and Stan Musial as the National League's only three-time Most Valuable Player award winners.

He will also be in Los Angeles for the May 7 exhibition game between the Dodgers and Yankees to be played in his behalf.

"Isn't that something?" he exclaimed. "That's the most wonderful thing that ever happened to me. I'll always be grateful to the Yankees and Dodgers for that. Gee, I'm a lucky guy."

Pick Jerry West
As Most Valuable
CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—Jerry West, the money-man of West Virginia's Eastern NCAA champions, today was unanimously named the most valuable player in the two-day tournament completed Saturday at Charlotte.

The 6-3 junior from Cabin Creek, W.Va., had 69 points and 32 rebounds as the Mountaineers nipped St. Joseph's 95-92, and Boston U., 86-82, for a trip to the NCAA finals at Louisville this weekend.

Jay Metzler of Navy also was a unanimous choice.

Also named to the all-tournament team were Bob Cummings of Boston University, Joe Egan of St. Joseph's, and John Spratt of St. Joseph's.

SYRACUSE WINS OVER KNICKS
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Syracuse is "in" and New York is out in the East, but Detroit still has its foot in the door in the West thanks to Gene Shue.

That's the picture in the National Basketball Assn. playoffs today after Syracuse's 131-115 victory over New York and Detroit's 117-103 triumph over Minneapolis in the semifinal playoffs Sunday.

Syracuse, with Johnny Kerr scoring 34 points, George Yardley 24 and Dolph Schayes 20, closed out New York's first playoff bid in four years in two straight games.

The Nationals will open a best-of-seven series with the Eastern Division champion Boston Celtics at Boston Wednesday night for the Eastern playoff title.

Shue flipped in 32 points as Detroit squared its best of three series with Minneapolis. The rubber match will be played at Minneapolis Wednesday night with the winner moving into a best-of-seven series with St. Louis, the regular season champ of the Western Division.

The Nationals beat New York 129-123 in the series opener last Friday.

The Lakers won the opener of the Detroit series at St. Paul 92-89 Saturday night.

ELKS WIN MATCH
The Gettysburg Elks all-star bowling team swept three games in a match with the York All Stars here Saturday. A return match will be held in the near future at York.

3-TIME NAIA CHAMPS WILL STAY STRONG
KANSAS CITY (AP)—Tennessee A&I loses three aces that have carried the all-Negro team to the NAIA basketball championship three years. But indications are the Tigers will be the team to beat again next year.

The hot shooting Nashville team, coached by John McLenndon, won its third National Intercollegiate championship Saturday night, beating Pacific Lutheran College 97-87 in the finals.

Tennessee A. & I.'s big three—Dick Barnett, John Barnhill and Jim Satterwhite—have completed their NAIA eligibility after three successful trips to the tournament. Barnett made 26 points against Pacific Lutheran to run his three-tournament total to 390 points, a meet record.

McLenndon said it would be two or three years before his school would get in the championship class again.

What McLenndon didn't mention, however, was that his holdovers will include 6-7 Ben Warley and 6 1/2 Gene Werts, each a hero in this tournament, and Porter Meriwether, a speedy freshman.

Southwest Texas State of San Marcos nipped Fort Hays (Kan.) State 87-80 for third place in the 6-day tournament that involved 32 teams.

Also enacted was another bill which will permit the SRC to transfer five million dollars a year from construction funds to maintenance, instead of the present four million dollar ceiling.

Officials told a legislative committee this is largely necessary because the Legislature reneged on its original promise to boost the price of auto tag fees to help finance the 12-year construction program. This is the third time

The Day Christ Died

Jesus meets Pontius Pilate for the first time. The Roman governor is prepared to release Jesus, and thus infuriate the priests, until one of them brings a new charge against the Messiah — that of inciting revolt against the Roman Empire. This Pilate cannot ignore.

8 A.M.

April 7, A.D. 30

THE priests ordered the crowd to part to permit Jesus and His guards to come forward. He was brought up to a point inside the arches of Fortress Antonia, slightly forward of the high priests. They looked up toward the balcony where the procurator stood, flanked by his aides.

A servant brought out a regal chair and the Roman Governor walked down the right-hand stairway and sat on the chair which was placed on a stone landing. Jesus watched this through swollen, purple eyes. He stood alone. His wrists bound behind Him with a short rope.

Wore Expensive Toga

Jesus looked at Pilate and saw a short, patrician-looking man of about fifty years of age. His hair was graying and he wore an expensive toga and gilded sandals. The procurator held his right hand aloft. From this time onward, the disposition of the case of Jesus versus temple law was in the hands of Rome.

"What charge," asked Pilate loudly, "do you bring against that Man?" He pointed to Jesus. The priests exchanged uneasy glances. Pilate's pretended ignorance must mean that the cruel oppressor was planning to have Jesus tried before him — and, in that case, might dismiss the charges against Him for lack of evidence.

Legal Sarcasm

"If this Man," said the high priest, pointing at the back of Jesus, "were not a criminal, we should not have handed Him over to you." These words constituted a legal sarcasm. It did not answer the governor's question, which concerned the nature of the charge.

Sarcasm was a dangerous weapon to use against a man like Pilate, who understood this case thoroughly. Still, his knowledge was unofficial, and as Caesar's deputy it was correct to open a hearing by asking the manner of the charge.

"Then take Him in charge yourselves," shouted Pilate, standing and preparing to retire, "and try Him by your law!"

The coldly angry procurator was determined to have the last word. To bring the high priest to his knees, all Pilate had to do was to pretend innocence of the entire matter and walk off the scene.

Several of the priests cupped their hands and shouted together: "We have no power to put anyone to death." They did not say that they had no power to condemn a prisoner to death; only that they could not carry out their own sentence.

Charge Is Altered

Pilate did not answer. He turned his back on the priests and started to walk up the steps. The crowd of temple employees was stunned! One of the ranking priests shouted: "We caught this Man inciting our nation to revolt. He opposes the paying of taxes to Caesar and passes Himself off as the Messiah — a king."

The procurator paused and looked around. The charge against Jesus had been seriously altered. Blasphemy was one thing. Any mentally unbalanced person might call himself God. But when a responsible group of citizens used the words "revolt" and "taxes" and "Caesar," they were charging the prisoner with a high crime against Tiberius and the empire.

Pilate studied the little knot of elegant priests and was forced to show a brief smile of admiration. They had rid themselves of Jesus as a local problem and had thrown Him to Pilate as a menace to the empire.

Wife Had Influence

Pontius Pilate, procurator of Palestine, the highest judge and top administrator of the country, had few of the marks of greatness. He was intelligent, urbane, sometimes brilliant in conversation, and had a regal bearing, but it is felt that his appointment to the position of procurator was due to the ties of his wife, Claudia Procula, to the Roman throne. She is said to have been the granddaughter of Caesar Augustus.

Unlike her husband, who was an atheist, she was superstitious in matters religious; although she worshiped the many gods of the emperor, she feared to interfere with the practices of any other cult including that of the Jews.

Heard Of Miracles

Claudia had heard about Jesus and the miracles He had performed. She did not want the fate of such a Man to rest in Pilate's hands. This morning, hearing the noise from the courtyard below, she wrote to her husband a short note: "Have nothing to do with that just Man."

The message reached Pilate as he turned away from the crowd at the gate. He read it and frowned and crumpled it in his hand. Then he walked off the balcony into his suite of offices.

After some moments of deliberation, Pilate dispatched a servant to go out into the courtyard and tell the centurion Abenadar to bring Jesus to him. At the same time, he sent an aide to his wife's quarters to tell her not to worry, that he did not intend to confirm the sentence of death.

Lips Were Swollen

Jesus was brought in and stood in the center of the room. The Romans and Syrians studied Him closely for the first time. They wanted to see the greatness that had frightened the high priests. But they saw only the pathetic figure of a Man, shorn of dignity.

"Are you the king of the Jews?" Pilate asked. The swollen lips began to move. "Do you ask this question from personal observation," Jesus said, "or have others spoken to you about Me?"

Pilate misunderstood Jesus. "Am I a Jew?" he asked the Messiah. This brought chuckles from the Gentiles in the room. "Your own nation and the high priests have handed you over to me. What have you done?"

Pilate Needed Denial

All Pilate needed was a denial. He was giving Jesus a chance to save His life.

"My kingdom," Jesus said slowly, "is not a worldly one." He offered sensible proof of this. "If Mine were a worldly kingdom, My subjects would exert themselves to prevent My being surrendered to the Jews. As it is, My kingdom is not of an earthly character."

Pilate was vexed. Why did this pious faker not take advantage of his generosity? "Then You are a king after all!" he said. He glanced at his staff helplessly. There was no accounting for the obstinacy of Jewish religious fervor.

"You are right," Jesus said, further confounding the governor. "I am a king. For this purpose I was born, and for this purpose I came into the world — to give testimony to the truth. Only he who is open to the truth gives ear to My voice."

The sophisticated Roman's eyes narrowed, and his lips curled with scorn. Then he motioned for the soldiers to take Jesus outside.

Defect No Guilt

The people watched almost breathlessly as Jesus reappeared, followed by Pilate and his officers. He sat on a curule chair which is customary when he passes judgment. The governor wasted no time.

"I can detect no guilt in this Man," Pilate said. There was a moment or two of stunned silence, and then a riotous babble of voices arose. The high priests struck their foreheads repeatedly and turned to the people in mute appeal. The roar became louder. Some of the off-duty soldiers ran into the garrison room and got their cuirasses and swords.

Pilate sat and smiled. Caiaphas and the others of the Sanhedrin knew that the procurator was turning the Man loose not on the legalities but to confound them.

"Stirs Up Nation"

The priests approached Pilate and, bowing formally, said: "He Christ before Pilate, from a painting by Mihaly Munkacsy, great Hungarian painter (1844-1909) for which John Wanamaker paid $125,000 in the 1880's. Munkacsy, who like Jesus worked in his youth as a carpenter, is represented in the Louvre, Metropolitan Museum of Art and other leading institutions.

stirs up the nation by His teaching throughout the whole Jewish country. He began in Galilee and ended here."

Pontius Pilate began to look pleased. He asked if the prisoner was a Galilean. Certainly, the priests said.

"Well then," said Pilate, "this case should be under the jurisdiction of Herod, tetrarch of Galilee. Take Him to Herod."

What kind of man is Herod Antipas? What is the specter that haunts his mind? And why is he so eager to lay eyes on Jesus? Find the answers to these questions in Tuesday's installment of Mr. Bishop's "The Day Christ Died."

JOBLESS PAY BILL TO PASS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fast House passage appeared assured today for a bill to continue temporary federal unemployment benefits for some 300,000 jobless workers who would otherwise lose them April 1.

Although falling short of Democratic proposals, the three-months "tapering-off" measure had bipartisan support as about the best that could be passed before the present jobless pay law dies March 31.

To beat the expiration deadline, leaders sent the bill to the floor under procedure limiting debate to 40 minutes and requiring a two-thirds vote for passage. Its passage today would give the Senate two weeks to complete action.

The bill was opposed as inadequate by some northern Democrats from industrial areas still experiencing substantial unemployment. They called for a one-year extension of the existing program.

House Republicans, who have opposed anything but a sharply

SHOWDOWN ON PENNA. TAXES DRAWS NEAR

HARRISBURG (AP)—Opposing forces readied for a showdown on taxes as legislators returned here today for a climactic session of the General Assembly.

Gov. Lawrence was reported to have asked Democratic and Republican legislative leaders to meet with him during the day to discuss support for his tax package. The 400 million dollar tax program was recommended by Lawrence's Tax Advisory Committee.

The legislative leaders are scheduled to meet with members of their own party in caucuses later in the day.

Not Enough Votes

The administration was left without enough votes to get its tax program through the House last week when several members of the 107-102 Democratic majority balked.

The Lawrence tax program, based on the recommendations of the bipartisan committee, would limit extension of the program, pronounced the bill acceptable to President Eisenhower.

and asked citizens to oppose the proposed tax boost through petitions or letters to the lawmakers.

Other action on the legislative schedule calls for the start of a Senate Budget Committee investigation today. The committee hearings were scheduled with an eye to saving time when the plans clear the House.

DPI Probe Near

Another Senate probe is scheduled to open Thursday when a five-member committee headed by Sen. George N. Wade (R-Cumberland) looks at operations of the State Public Instruction Department.

Sen. James S. Berger, Senate Republican floor leader, said his Rules Committee will send to the floor for action a resolution calling for a five-member Senate committee to investigate the Public Welfare Department's operations. He predicted it would win Senate approval.

Berger also predicted that the Senate would give final legislative approval to a bill providing for annual sessions of the General Assembly.

The proposed amendment to the Constitution needs only approval of the Senate and the governor before being ready for a decision by the voters in a statewide referendum.

Rep. Stephen McCann, House Democratic floor leader, came up with a 4 per cent boost proposal and no extension after a caucus last week, but the governor said Friday he would not compromise.

Rep. W. Stuart Helm (R-Armstrong), chairman of the House GOP Policy Committee, said that although Lawrence "has painted himself into a corner with his own party," House Republicans would not attempt to present solid opposition.

"Whatever individuals (in the House) want to do, they may do," he said. "We very definitely will not impose the unit rule, nor even attempt to impose it."

The unit rule binds all members of a party caucus to vote with the caucus majority. Violation of the rule brings expulsion from future caucuses and the loss of many party privileges.

Oppose Package

The Pennsylvania Tavern Assn., the Pennsylvania Assn. of Tobacco and Candy Distributors and the Pennsylvania Restaurant Assn. have asked members, employees and consumers to fight the tax package through their legislators.

Each organization attacked proposals dealing with its industry.

STOCK PRICES KEEP CLIMBING TO NEW HIGHS

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Stock prices averages keep on climbing to new heights to the fascination of most and the amazement of many.

Among the reasons offered there is one that is quite tangible—corporate profits have been climbing, too. And many company executives are predicting still better days ahead.

This is something that Wall Street understands even better than it does such a psychological reason as the wide belief that continuing inflation is now written into the American economy, or a technical reason as that growing investment and pension funds have more money to put to work.

Profit Trend Continues
The upward swing in profits was evident in the final months of 1958, when they advanced sharply from the summer months. The profit again was steeper than that in industrial production. It contrasted sharply with unemployment, which has stayed stubbornly high.

That the profit trend is carrying over into the first quarter of 1959 is shown in the first reports by corporations whose fiscal year ends before the calendar year, and whose 1959 first quarter is now a matter of record.

Some 28 of these have reported on earnings so far, and 21 of them show gains over the same three months of the previous year. For most of them, true, the 1959 results are weighted by comparison with a very bleak period a year ago.

I H Big Loser
But of the seven who report a decline this time, the sharpest and largest drop is that of a farm equipment company that was strike bound through most of the 1959 first quarter. (International Harvester, which made 64 million dollars the previous year but lost 3 1/2 million dollars this time.) This weighs the sampling of 28 corporations to the downside almost as much as a comparison with the recession depths weighs the average to the upside.

There was only one other to report operating in the red in the 1959 period, while there were five in that predicament in the previous year.

Pickup In Sales
Combined the 28 report net profit after taxes in this first quarter of their fiscal year as $46,799,000, an increase of 8.3 per cent over the $43,207,000 the same companies made the previous year.

There are other reasons for the gains than just a comparison with recession days. Chief is a pickup in sales. But important, too, is the cost cutting the recession inspired, which gives them a better margin of profit on each dollar of sales.

For many firms increased efficiency of new plants and equipment either has cut sharply into labor costs or has at least offset any rise in wage scales. And always, after the fixed charges of their business have been met, there is a rising return on each additional sales dollar.

BALTIMORE (AP) — A young gunman came out 50 cents short in a grocery store robbery. David Silberman, 79, the grocer, said the teen-age bandit spent about 30 minutes waiting for customers to leave. While biding his time, he bought two soft drinks, a pretzel and a pack of cigarettes. When the place was clear, he pulled a gun. Mrs. Silberman screamed. The bewildered youth fled without taking anything.

LONDON (AP) — Frederick Hearn got a divorce because he wasn't getting enough sleep.

It seems his German-born wife Hildegard liked to talk in bed.

Night after night, sometimes for weeks on end, Hildegard kept Fred awake nights by talking, a divorce court judge said.

Sometimes Fred would fall asleep, but Hildegard only thought he was kidding to annoy her.

Sometimes he snored.

In the end, said the judge, Hildegard got so annoyed she struck him, clawed him, tore his hair out and once pushed him out of bed. The court granted Fred a decree on grounds of cruelty, ruling Hildegard had deprived him of the peace of mind which would enable him to sleep soundly.

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A gambling casino has gotten back $9,000 of the $35,000 a Californian won during a hot run of dice at the crap table.

Jack Callie of Beverly Hills, the lucky shooter, started with $10 and during his fantastic streak everyone who could crowd up to the table was betting along with him. In two hours the house was reported to have lost $12,000.

A spokesman for the Casino said Callie came back the next night and dropped $9,000 before deciding his luck had run out. He is president of the Beverly Hills Bridge Club.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) said Friday he will decide by mid-summer whether to be an all-out candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1960.

If he does decide to try actively for the nomination, he said in an interview, he will enter next year's Wisconsin presidential primary and others, primarily in the Midwest and on the West Coast.

But he said emphatically he would not enter state primaries where favorite son candidates might seek to tie down state delegations.

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — Operation "Corned Beef" has been launched by the Kenya Meat Commission to help hundreds of Sudanese struck down by an epidemic of protein deficiency.

The epidemic has already put over 500 people into hospital.

M.P. Guido, of the U.S. Consulate in Khartoum, flew to Nairobi on behalf of the U.S. Operative Mission to Sudan to buy vitamin supplies. He was told in Kenya the best product available was corned beef. He bought 34 tons of it and is arranging to send it to Sudan by every available plane.

LONDON (AP) — Russia has again attacked the British-Greek-Turkish independence agreement on Cyprus and said it will turn the Mediterranean island into a "powder keg."

Izvestia, the Soviet government newspaper, said "every point in the Zurich and London agreements is convincing proof that we are dealing with collusion behind the back of the people of Cyprus, against their national interests, against the interests of peace."

WELCH SAYS LAWYERS DON'T ACT IN COURT

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Do lawyers act? Boston attorney Joseph Welch doesn't think so, yet he's here for his acting debut at 68.

The famed personality of the 1964 Army-McCarthy hearings has been inveigled to portray a judge in Otto Preminger's "Anatomy of a Murder." Here for a publicity whirl before reporting to the Michigan location, he bristled at the suggestion that lawyers emot in the courtroom.

"I have been willing to fight and to bleed because I was firmly convinced of the righteousness of my client's cause," he explained. "And I have lost and bled in pursuing those causes, but I have still been convinced of their righteousness."

Persuaded By Script

Welch would not concede that Clarence Darrow, the most historic lawyer of the century, could be accused of acting.

"I have read all of his trial arguments and talked a great deal with a classmate of mine who was associated with him in his later years," he remarked. "I am a great admirer of Darrow's, and I feel that he was so wrapped up with the belief in his clients' cause that he was carried away with emotion."

What induced Welch to abandon his law books for a movie script? "The script itself," he commented. "It was a faithful adaptation of the book, which I found to be an extremely accurate account of a trial. Naturally, it would be since it was written by John Voelker, who is a justice of the Michigan Supreme Court."

NEW SYRIAN CHARGE ADDS FUEL TO FIRE

By WILTON WYNN

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—A new Syrian charge of Iraqi border violation added more fuel today to the burning feud between President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic and Iraqi Premier Abdel Karim Kassem.

In the third such accusation in a week, a spokesman for the United Arab Republic's 1st Army claimed that 30 Iraqis thrust across Syria's frontier Sunday and attacked two Syrian guards, wounding one.

Nasser predicted uprisings against the Iraqi premier would continue "as long as dictatorship and the heresy of communism continues" in Iraq.

Want Traitor Purge

In Baghdad, leftists called on Kassem to arm the people and purge the army and government of traitors. The idea obviously was to get rid of army officers and others sympathetic to Nasser's aim of Arab unity.

Some 50,000 students and workers paraded through the heart of Cairo Sunday in a demonstration against Kassem and Iraqi Communists. The demonstrators, led by Cairo University students, denounced Kassem's regime and pledged support for Nasser's campaign against Reds in the Middle East.

Leaders of Nasser's National Union — the only political party permitted in the U.A.R.—called on Arabs everywhere to help topple Kassem's regime and "check the Communist cancer in the body of the Arab nation."

Hamlet Shop Up

The latest Syrian border charge said the Iraqi troops crossed the frontier near Talhammar village, in the general area where U.A.R. officials claimed three Iraqi fighters strafed villages Saturday. Last Tuesday U.A.R. sources charged that Iraqi planes shot up the frontier hamlet of Hamoudiya and destroyed a house.

Cairo newspapers expressed belief the planes charged with Saturday's strafing were chasing

ASSERT "CAPT KANGAROO" IS LOSING MONEY

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) — It would be a favor to a gentle fellow named Bob Keeshan if you would fail to explain to the youngest members of the household that a gentle television character named Captain Kangaroo is also Keeshan.

"Absolutely no good comes of it," says Keeshan. "Either the children are disappointed that Captain Kangaroo is not actually Captain Kangaroo or else they think their parents are lying. It's like learning that there is no Santa Claus."

rebel refugees from the northern Iraqi oil center of Mosul, site of last week's uprising.

The Iraqi government reported nearly a week ago that the rebellion was crushed, but reliable reports have indicated some fighting is continuing in outlying areas.

AP correspondent Stan Carter visited Mosul over the weekend and said the 100 or so foreigners there were safe. But he reported sizeable casualties in the fighting and many dead in a battle between fleeing rebels and pro-Kassem villagers on the road to Syria.

ta Claus."

Today "Captain Kangaroo" offered its 1,001st program on CBS-TV (at the new hour of 8:15 a.m. EST). In an age when television programming has largely decided to ignore the youngest children, it remains the only children's show appearing six days a week on any of the networks.

This program is a hardy plant thriving among the grassbrush and exotic orchids of today's "adult" television entertainment. It has garnered awards and high praise from educators and parents — to say nothing of the children themselves.

As Keeshan quickly points out, the program's longevity is thanks to the enthusiasm of CBS-TV and many of its affiliated stations. For the sad truth is that "Captain Kangaroo" loses money. Recently a CBS spokesman said the network loses more than one million dollars a year on the show.

Likely To Continue

Happily, however, there is every indication that "Captain Kangaroo" will continue to be with us and the children for a long time to come. The problem in children's TV programming these days is that the sponsor dollars have switched to a so-called mature audience in an age of rapidly rising TV production costs.

Pressed to analyze the character of Captain Kangaroo, Keeshan, father of three preschool age children, said:

"Captain Kangaroo treats chil-

START CONTRACT TALKS

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Contract negotiations in the basic steel industry will get under way in New York May 18. Current three-year pacts between the United Steelworkers and basic steel companies expire June 30.

The union's 170-man wage policy committee will meet April 30-May 1, probably in New York, to draw up contract demands.

About 600,000 of the USW's 1,250,000 members are in basic steel.

DENVER (AP) — Pacifists paraded quietly in the background Friday night as a gleaming white Titan intercontinental ballistic missile was unveiled in Civic Center, facing the Colorado Capitol.

The missile is a gift to the city from the Martin Co., which is producing Titans at its southwest Denver plant. The unarmed weapon will remain on display during Colorado's Centennial Year.

Although Cincinnati plays Pittsburgh in Cincinnati April 9, the National League's opening day is considered April 10 when the remainder of the teams swing into action. This is the earliest starting date for the league in 46 years.

Children as intelligent human beings and never talks down to them. He is not afraid to ask them to think. And he believes that they have good taste. He likes people in general and children in particular."

BOY ADMITS MURDERING HIS MOTHER AT 8

PITTSBURGH (AP)—What action should be taken against a 10-year-old boy who says he killed his widowed mother with a hatchet when he was eight?

That ticklish question may be decided this week in the case of Charles John Zubryd, an honor pupil.

Dist. Atty. Edward Boyle said Charles confessed Saturday that he slew his mother in November 1956 because she was going to whip him with a belt.

Finally Solve Mystery Boyle said he is convinced the boy is telling the truth and that the death of 41-year-old Mrs. Helen Zubryd in her nearby Sewickley Twp. home finally has been solved.

Charles' age is, of course, a major factor. Technically, he could be charged with murder under a state law which holds children of seven responsible in such cases.

Indications are, however, that he will never face a jury.

A district attorney's aide, who asked not to be identified, said psychiatric examination may prove legal prosecution unnecessary, adding:

"I know one thing. This boy will not be brought into criminal court. On all practical grounds, juvenile court should take over the case."

Boyle said he intends to confer with Judge Gustav L. Schramm of Juvenile Court. Charles is being held by juvenile authorities. Since his mother's death he had been living with an uncle and aunt, Michael and Marjorie Zubryd, of Irwin R. 3.

Boyle said some 1,500 persons had been questioned in the case at a cost of thousands of dollars, but that leads always traced back to the Zubryd home.

The district attorney said Charles was brought in Saturday for questioning, as he has on several occasions since the death of Mrs. Zubryd. Charles was an only child.

Congressmen Pretty Good At Writing Headlines

WASHINGTON (AP) — Never slouches at headline hunting, members of Congress are becoming proficient as headline writers.

Some interesting eye-catchers show up from time to time in the appendix of the Congressional Record, where members can publish almost anything and write their own headlines.

Some recent examples, and their authors:

Do Ducks Smoke?—Rep. A. S. Herlong (D-Fla.), in an article about ducks, as well as cigarette smokers, being victims of cancer.

God And Mr. Dulles Can the Republican Elephant Be Whitewashed?—Rep. Ken Hechler (D-W.Va.), in an article criticizing the Republican party leadership.

God and Mr. Dulles — Rep. Wayne N. Aspinall (D-Colo.), discussing foreign policy toward Red China.

GI Joe and Honest John—Rep. Daniel J. Flood (D-Pa.), in an article asserting the need for foot troops in the missile age.

Poison in Your Water — Rep. John D. Dingell (D-Mich.), in one of a series of articles on water pollution.

Out Of The Past They're Stealing My Dollars, Robbing My Children, Grandchildren, and great-grandchildren — Rep. Clare E. Hoffman (R-Mich.), complaining about inflation.

Refurnishing of the congressional press galleries has flushed some interesting items out of ancient file cases.

Among them:

A yellowed reprint of President Herbert Hoover's State of the Union message to the second session of the 71st Congress on Dec. 3, 1929. Among other things, Hoover called for a cut in income taxes to a maximum of 4 per cent on individual income and 11 per cent on corporate earnings.

and spilled 4,000 gallons of gasoline on the Harbor Freeway.

After 40 policemen and eight fire companies cleaned up the mess Sunday, officers asked Booker Williams why he had left his car there.

"I was out of gas," he told officers.

REPAIR HEART OF GIRL, 4, HAS GOOD CHANCE

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Leslie Ann Smiley, a chubby four-year-old heart patient from DuBois, Pa., has a good chance for total recovery, surgeons at Hahnemann Hospital reported today.

The pretty little dark-haired child is recuperating from a six-hour operation last Friday in which a double heart defect was repaired.

She is expected to spend several weeks at the hospital before returning to DuBois with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Smiley Jr., to "help take care of" her younger sister, Sherree Lynn, 2.

Nearly everyone in the Clearfield County community has taken a personal interest in the child's welfare.

Needed Surgery Local physicians had advised the family that surgery was virtually imperative. The child's strength was waning and she suffered frequent attacks of shortness of breath.

The DuBois Courier-Express carried a story about the little girl and readers began sending donations. The Leslie Ann Smiley Fund was set up and grew rapidly.

Children gave up candy money in school and the nickels and dimes became dollars as the youngsters, caught up in the neighborhood spirit of the fund, solicited door-to-door donations.

Radio Station WCED joined in the appeal and a telethon was inaugurated from a local department store window.

Raise $8,000 Nearly $8,000 was raised in little more than a month.

Ten days ago, Leslie Ann developed a complicating ear infection. It was decided the surgery should be postponed no longer.

In the two-fold operation on Friday, surgeons closed a hole about the size of a five-cent piece in the wall between her lower heart chambers. Then an obstruction hindering the flow of blood from her heart to her lungs was removed.

Mechanical Heart During the surgery the child's body temperature was lowered by a rubber "ice blanket" to lessen her need for oxygen. The functions of her heart and lungs were taken over by a mechanical device for 70 minutes.

Now she is recovering under the watchful eyes of doctors and nurses who have "practically adopted" their warm and appealing little charge.

The hospital reports Leslie Ann is presently in "satisfactory condition, barring complications" and prospects are bright for her to lead the full and happy life of a normal youngster — thanks in no small measure to the good will and helping hand of Du Bois friends and neighbors, young and old alike.

HALUSKA RUNS EBENSBURG, Pa. (AP)—John J. Haluska, former state senator and a principal in the controversial Hoxsey Cancer Clinic at Portage, plans to seek election to the Cambria County Common Pleas Court.

Haluska, who is not an attorney, said he will seek nominations on both Republican and Democratic ballots in the May primary elections. He served in the state legislature as a Democrat.

The Hoxsey Cancer Clinic recently was closed and the building sold after government orders prevented the clinic from further operations.

MALONE HOME ROBBED PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Pittsburgh home of James F. Malone, president of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers Assn. and a Republican leader in the state, was burglarized Sunday night.

Mrs. Malone said the robbers took $75 in cash and jewelry valued at about $4,000. Police said the thieves broke into the Malone home in the Squirrel Hill district through a rear window.

Two accompanying measures would authorize the use of pen in marking absentee ballots and provide for absentee registration for sick or disabled persons. All three would become effective Jan. 1, 1960.

Present laws allow absentee voting only for members of the armed forces and ill or disabled veterans.

ANCESTORS ON HAND OGDEN, Utah (AP) — A lot of the family was on hand when Boyd Braithwaite was born.

There was his 15-year-old mother, Clara Smith Braithwaite; his 30-year-old grandmother, Mrs. Ida Smith; his 45-year-old great grandmother, Coral Mair; and his 80-year-old great-grandmother, Theda Ann DeHaven, all of Ogden.

Mrs. Braithwaite, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Mair all were married at 14 and had children at 15.

ABSENTEE VOTING HARRISBURG (AP) — Legislation to extend absentee voting and registration privileges to the sick and disabled probably will be introduced in the General Assembly this week.

Gov. Lawrence said that one of the administration-backed bills would allow the filing of absentee ballots by "any registered elector who is unavoidably absent from the Commonwealth or the county of his residence during the entire period the polls are open, or who is unable to go to his polling place because of illness or physical disability."

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—Chile's senate voted 23-5 Friday night to grant President Jorge Alessandri extraordinary powers to curb inflation and develop the country economically. Senate approval, followed an administration request for such powers. The request will now be debated in the chamber of deputies, where there has been some opposition.
